“From a young age, I felt that there was power in knowing the law and was fascinated by it,” says Cheyanne Anquoe. Today, as Chief Operating Officer, she manages the Arnold Law Firm office in Sacramento with 10 attorneys and 40 employees in all. Founded in 1975, this plaintiffs law firm specializes in personal injury, employment, Qui Tam and data breach law.

Though she pursued business law, Anquoe’s career path was primarily determined by her early interest in law and, at age 17, a job as legal assistant to the late Charles F. Bloodgood. She held various entry-level roles including receptionist, calendar clerk and administrative assistant, and by age 22, she landed a job with attorney Douglas H. Kraft, where she built experience and skills for 20 years, ultimately as firm administrator.

Prior to joining the Arnold Law Firm in September 2022, Anquoe was the contract manager and paralegal for the Sky River Casino project in Elk Grove. “Through various legal roles spanning more than 20 years, I realized I had a natural ability to inspire and lead people to cultivate an environment of positivity and growth,” she says. “It’s gratifying to be able to serve others.”

Anquoe notes that she enjoys creating an environment where people are excited to come to work and grow their careers. “The attorneys look to me to take on the day-to-day operations and responsibilities so that they’re able to focus on their caseloads and provide the best client care they can,” she says.

The Arnold Law Firm is in a growth phase, having recently hired six additional team members and looking to launch into additional practice areas.

Anquoe concludes, “I look forward to expanding our team so we can serve the community in more ways, and to lead the way for the firm’s future.”
